NEW QUESTION: 1

A DLP administrator has enabled and successfully tested custom attribute lookups for incident data based on the Active Directory LDAP plugin. The Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) has attempted to generate a User Risk Summary report, but the report is empty. The DLP administrator confirms the Cisco's role has the "User Reporting" privilege enabled, but User Risk reporting is still not working.

What is the probable reason that the User Risk Summary report is blank?

- A. Only DLP administrators are permitted to access and view data for high risk users.
- B. User attributes have been incorrectly mapped to Active Directory accounts.
- C. User attribute data must be configured separately from incident data attributed.
- D. The Enforce server has insufficient permissions for importing user attributes.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 2

Instructions

Why has the Branch3 router lost connectivity with R1?

Use only show commands to troubleshoot because usage of the debug command is restricted on the Branch3 and R1 routers.

- A. The PPP chap hostname and PPP chap password commands are missing on the Branch3 router.
- B. PPP encapsulation is not configured on Branch3.
- C. A PPP chap hostname mismatch is noticed between Branch3 and R1.
- D. A PPP chap password mismatch is noticed between Branch3 and R1.

Answer: C

Explanation:

First we should check Branch3 (and R1) with the "show ip interface brief" command to find any Layer1/Layer 2 issue.

We see the interfaces connecting between them are in "up/down" states which indicates an Layer 2 issue so we should check the configuration of these interfaces carefully with the "show running-config" command and pay attention to these interfaces.

and on Branch3:

We learn from above config is R1 is using CHAP to authenticate Branch3 router (via the "ppp authentication chap" command on R1). Branch3 router is sending CHAP hostname "Branch_3" and CHAP password "Branch3_Secret!" to R1 to be authenticated. Therefore we should check if R1 has already been configured with such username and password or not with the "show running-config" command on R1:

On R1 we see the configured username is "Branch3", not "Branch_3" so the usernames here are mismatched and this is the problem -> Answer A is correct.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Jack Thomas and Tim Bentley are analysts for Bond Analytics (BA). BA provides bond analysis for mutual fund managers, hedge fund managers, and institutional money managers in the United States. BA specializes in the valuation of international bonds and callable bonds, using intrasector analysis to find undervalued bonds. In addition to valuing the bonds, they also advise clients on whether to hedge currency risk for international bonds. Thomas has been a particularly strong advocate of hedging the currency risk of international bonds, especially in emerging markets, using forward contracts when they are available.

At a morning meeting, Thomas and Bentley are trying to decide whether to hedge the currency risk of a large issue of bonds from a Thai manufacturer of pressed steel, Nakhon Metals. The client considering purchasing the bonds is a large U.S. mutual fund, Epsilon Funds. Epsilon has started to explore the possibility of earning higher returns through currency management using forward contracts. Thomas and Bentley discuss the various hedges of currency risk for the Nakhon Metals bond. One possibility is using a forward hedge position on the Thai baht. A second possibility is using forward contracts where the baht is delivered for Korean won. Thomas states that the second hedge would be pursued if the won was expected to appreciate more against the U.S. dollar than the baht. In the second hedge, the manager would sell won for dollars at the future spot rate.

Thomas and Bentley gather the following information on the expected changes in the various currencies, the 1-year cash rates in the respective countries, and the expected return on the Nakhon bond.

Additionally, the Nakhon Metals bond has a duration of 7.30 and is being compared against a bond denominated in U.S. dollars, issued by Powhatan Industries. The Powhatan bond has a duration of 4.2 and a yield of 4.50%. Whichever bond is purchased will be held for the next year. Thomas projects that the yield for the Nakhon Metals bond is expected to increase by 5 basis points while the yield on the Powhatan Industries bond is expected to stay constant.

The following day, Thomas and Bentley discuss the market for and valuation of callable and long duration bonds. They believe that interest rates are temporarily low and for this reason want to be careful about their bond investments. Although they could hedge interest rate risk, they prefer not to because they believe it reduces the ultimate long-term return.

Thomas says that due to secular changes in the bond market, bonds with structures are expected to become more scarce. He says that the problem with callable bonds has been that they typically trade at a premium due to their scarcity. Bentley states that bonds with long durations also trade at a premium because they are scarce as well.

Thomas states that the performance of callables and non-callables may differ when interest rates change due to the inherent call risk. He discusses the relative performance under two scenarios:

* Scenario A: Interest rates are near coupon rates and fall for both callables and non-callables by the same amount.

* Scenario B: Interest rates are historically very low and rise for both callables and non-callables by the same amount.

Determine whether Thomas and Bentley are correct or incorrect regarding their statements about the scarcity and pricing of callable and long duration bonds.

A. Only Thomas is correct.

B. Both are correct.

C. Only Bentley is correct.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Both Thomas and Bentley are correct. Both callable bonds and bonds with long durations trade at a premium due to their scarcity. (Study Session 9, LOS 30.b)

NEW QUESTION: 4

During metric analysis, your team has determined that the company's website during peak hours is experiencing response times higher than anticipated. You currently rely on Auto Scaling to make sure that you are scaling your environment during peak windows. How can you improve your Auto Scaling policy to reduce this high response time? Choose 2 answers.

A. Push custom metrics to CloudWatch for your application that include more detailed information about your web application, such as how many requests it is handling and how many are waiting to be processed.

B. Create a script that runs and monitors your servers; when it detects an anomaly in load, it posts to an Amazon SNS topic that triggers Elastic Load Balancing to add more servers to the load balancer.

C. Push custom metrics to CloudWatch to monitor your CPU and network bandwidth from your servers, which will allow your Auto Scaling policy to have better fine-grain insight.

D. Increase your AutoScalingGroup's number of max servers.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Explanation

Option B makes sense because maybe the max servers is low hence the application cannot handle the peak load.

Option D helps in ensuring Autoscaling can scale the group on the right metrics.
