NEW QUESTION: 2

DRAG DROP

You are developing an ASP.NET MVC application that processes payments for an online retailer. The retailer provides a .NET assembly that contains a class named Retail EventSource that derives from the EventSource class.

The RetailEventSource class has a method named

SuspiciousTransaction that returns

True when the order originates from a system that differs significantly from the system that usually performs orders. The

RetailEventSource class also has a field named

PaymentProcessed that stores the event identifier for a payment-processed event.

Events must be written only when the event source is in a state where writing events is valid.

You need to create a derived type that contains the method to raise a PaymentProcessed event.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Pardot synchronizes a prospect, Pardot looks for contacts with a matching email address as first priority. If it

A. finds a matching lead to sync

B. creates a lead if no matching lead is found

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

By default, when Pardot syncs a prospect, Pardot looks for contacts with a matching email address as first priority. If it doesn't find any, it will look for a matching lead to sync with. If it doesn't find one of those, either, it will create a lead. For more details ->
